

Service and Supply Bonds

Smart business solutions supporting nonconstruction contracts

Service and supply bonds support nonconstruction service and supply contracts. These bonds provide performance guarantees to project owners. In the event a principal is unable to meet contractual obligations, the surety has completion or payment obligations.

While Liberty Mutual Surety has the capacity and resources to provide performance and payment bonds for almost any construction project, our team of underwriters has deep knowledge of, and experience with, supplying bonds to service and supply contractors. Our underwriters work closely with independent agents and brokers to meet their customers' particular service and supply bond needs.
